

RYEWAKA

IN A NUTSHELL SPICY, BITTER, GRAPEFRUIT-PITH. OUR TURN

The return leg of our collaboration with Bierhaus AI - two years after our original brew with him up at Lobethal.

Essentially, Ryewaka is a beer designed around a cheesy pun.

We love Rye, love Rye in beer, love Riwaka Hops and are more than a little partial to IPAs - enter 'Ryewaka IPA' - a Rye IPA featuring, you guessed it, Riwaka Hops. The idea of Ryewaka was to combine the spicy, fruity 'hard' grainy character of Rye with the sharp, spicy, grapefruit-pith kick of Riwaka in a fresh, zesty and balanced IPA.

We've simplified the original malt bill and added (more) Whirlpool Riwaka and Hopback Wakatu and the result is a leaner, hoppier, bitier IPA with less booze than its predecessor - and still unmistakably Ryewaka.

Our next plan is to brew a couple of batches of Ryewaka; one up at Lobethal and one at the Wheaty, and pour them side by side - same recipe, different Breweries. Though I suspect it will take another two years to coordinate brew schedules...
